Vol. XX, No. 1, 1995

Africa Development is the quarterly bilingual journal of CODESRIA. It is a social science journal whose major focus is on issues which are central to the development of society. Its principal objective is to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas among African scholars from a variety of intellectual persuasions and various disciplines. The journal also encourages other contributors working on Africa or those undertaking comparative analysis of Third World issues.

Africa Development welcomes contributions which cut across disciplinary boundaries. Articles with a narrow focus and incomprehensible to people outside their discipline are unlikely to be accepted.

The journal is abstracted in the following indexes: International African Bibliography; Documentatieblad; Abstracts on Rural Development in the Tropics; Documentationseliens Africa; A Current Bibliography on African Affairs

Afrique et Développement est un périodique trimestriel bilingue du CODESRIA. C'est une revue de sciences sociales consacrée pour l'essentiel aux problèmes de développement et de société. Son objectif fondamental est de créer un forum pour des échanges d'idées entre intellectuels africains de convictions et de disciplines diverses. Il est également ouvert aux autres chercheurs travaillant sur l'Afrique et à ceux se consacrant à des études comparatives sur le Tiers-monde.

Afrique et Développement souhaite recevoir des articles mobilisant les acquis de différentes disciplines. Des articles trop spécialisés ou incompréhensibles aux personnes qui sont en dehors de la discipline ne seront probablement pas acceptés.

Les articles publiés dans le périodique sont indexés dans les journaux spécialisés suivants: International African Bibliography; Documentatieblad; Abstracts on Rural Development in the Tropics; Documentationseliens Africa; A Current Bibliography on African Affairs.

NEW RELEASE CODESRIA BOOK SERIES

AN ECONOMIC HISTORY OF ETHIOPIA

Volume I: The Imperial Era 1941-74

Edited by
Shiferaw Bekele

When Emperor Haile Selassie led Ethiopia out of Italian occupation, he promised much — liberalisation, land reform, greater prosperity, a modern army, and a modern bureaucracy. Thirty years later, resistance, radical movements and dissent were to rock the foundations of his fragile new society into revolution.

The absence of details, up to date analysis, makes it difficult for modern students to understand the nature of the immense transformations the country went through during its imperial age. This work is an answer to that lack. Six chapters investigate agriculture, industrialisation, monetary policy and demography. Topics range from drought, the radical land protests of the 1960s, industrialisation and manufacturing, to migration and the struggle for a currency.

An Economic History of Modern Ethiopia is a unique book written only by Ethiopians. Along with Volume II, covering the 'people's government' period of 1974, these books will be invaluable to any student of Ethiopia, or modern Africa.

SOCIAL TRANSFORMATION The Swaziland Case

edited by
Nomthetho Simelane

In its experience of colonialism, Swaziland is not alone. The broad trends identified in the transformation of pre-colonial African societies apply equally to this country, surrounded on three sides by South Africa. In the development from the colonial to the capitalist mode of production new social forces have been unleashed and old ones transformed. The Swazi population has been dramatically affected by alienation, exploitation and appropriation.

In outlining this experience, this book provides a vital analytical link in the social and economic history of Swaziland. Chapters cover labour migration, the effects of colonial rule on the pre-capitalist aristocracy, the growth of settler and cash crop farmers, the industrialization of agriculture and the appropriation of peasant labour. Industries investigated include mining, cotton, forestry and sugar.

Written by African social scientists, this volume makes an essential contribution to the ongoing debate and analysis of the impact of colonialism on Africa, while providing a detailed record of the unique case of Swaziland.

NEW RELEASE CODESRIA BOOK SERIES

The nineteenth century in Africa was a time of revolution and tumultuous change in virtually all spheres. Violent dry spells, the staggered abolition of the slave trade, mass migrations and an influx of new settlers characterised the century. Regional trade links grew stronger and stretched further. The century also saw the beginnings of the ruthless and bloody quest for foreign domination.

This book, which won the Noma Award for Publishing in Africa in 1994, received the following jury citation: 'the book is an exercise in historical reconstruction, and its strength and distinction lies above all in its bold and convincing challenge to hitherto accepted orthodoxies, terminologies, and interpretations, about the nature and development of African societies and economies. The book is an outstanding, pioneering work, destined to become highly influential, and providing such a wealth of information and detail as to elevate the study of African economic history to a new pedestal'. The jury considered a further achievement of the book to be its 'successful, continent-wide approach' and 'its thorough accessibility'. The very full documentary apparatus in the book, 'which also makes it an extremely useful work of reference', was similarly praised by the jury. The publisher, CODESRIA, was commended for 'having shown great enterprise in identifying and supporting the author and finding him the necessary resources'.
