

Plants will miss your Shade

Samir Amin
My friend
My comrade weep I can't say bye I shan't

A baobab has fallen
Plants will miss your shade
Shoots will miss your protection
I'll miss your love & warmth

Your 80th we celebrated
On a Nile cruise
With seminars every morning
You're first to come
And last to leave

A Wone
A baobab has fallen
Plants will miss your shade
Shoots will miss your protection
And I'll miss your love and warmth
Issa Shivji added,

We continue celebrating Samir's life
For his unflinching commitment to the working people
He had vowed to change society
Where poor feed from trash cans
And rich from silver plates
He knew well it won't happen tomorrow or the day after
But Samir thought in epochs not decades.

Huge Loss

Freedom Mazwi

SMAIAS
Zimbabwe

Huge loss
A life well lived.

Shattered

Takes me back to 2015 when Sam passed on

But Samir,

Samir

Samir,

Imperialism is celebrating.

Go well brother
